Northside Engagement Expo

Holmes High School hosted an engagement expo in October which highlighted the innovative work that our students have been taking part in this school year in the STEM Lab with Ms. Rico and in the library with Mrs. Kirk. Through hands-on activities and demonstrations students were able to share the exciting learning experiences they have had. These types of activities enable our students to connect with real-world applications, and develop skills in areas like coding, robotics, and digital creativity. The expo provided our students a dynamic opportunity to inspire curiosity, enhance tech literacy, and promote active learning. We are truly grateful for Mrs. Rico, Mrs. Kirk, and all of our students who showed up to share their knowledge and love of learning.

Spotlight On Learning/Foco en el Aprendizaje

Reading Small Groups and the Daily 5

In Kinder - 5th grade, all students participate in reading small groups and the Daily 5. In reading small groups teachers can focus on each student's specific needs, whether it's decoding, comprehension, fluency, or vocabulary development, allowing for more personalized guidance and support. Daily 5 stations—Read to Self, Read to Someone, Listen to Reading, Word Work, and Work on Writing—promote literacy independence by giving students structured, meaningful activities that build key reading and writing skills. These stations encourage students to take ownership of their learning, practice important literacy habits, and enhance their ability to work independently while the teacher focuses on smaller groups. Altogether, this structure enables a balanced literacy environment where students develop skills at their own pace while engaging in diverse, purposeful reading and writing activities.

En Kinder - 5to grado, todos los estudiantes participan en grupos pequeños de lectura y en el Dairio 5. En grupos pequeños de lectura, los maestros pueden enfocarse en las necesidades específicas de cada estudiante, ya sea decodificación, comprensión, fluidez o desarrollo de vocabulario, lo que permite una orientación y apoyo más personalizados.. Las 5 estaciones diarias (Lectura Independiente, Leer con un companero , Escuchar la lectura, Trabajo con palabras y Trabajar en la escritura) promueven la independencia en la alfabetización al ofrecer a los estudiantes actividades estructuradas y significativas que desarrollan habilidades clave de lectura y escritura. Estas estaciones alientan a los estudiantes a apropiarse de su aprendizaje, practicar importantes hábitos de alfabetización y mejorar su capacidad para trabajar de forma independiente mientras el maestro se concentra en grupos más pequeños. En conjunto, esta estructura permite un ambiente de alfabetización equilibrado donde los estudiantes desarrollan habilidades a su propio ritmo mientras participan en actividades diversas y decididas de lectura y escritura.
